Business Report (April 1, 2009 to March 31, 2010)

1. Current Conditions of the Corporate Group

1) Business Progress and Results of the Current Consolidated Fiscal Year

(Including the status of fund raising and capital investments)

Business Progress

Though still reeling from the worldwide recession of the previous fiscal year, the economic environment responded positively to the stimulus packages adopted by various countries and showed some signs of recovery in the current fiscal year. However, market conditions have remained adverse overall.

On the domestic front, an increase in exports and improved corporate earnings helped fuel a gradual recovery. This recovery is still heavily reliant on external factors since domestic demand continues to be sluggish, however.

The domestic truck market was boosted by tax cuts (eco-car tax deductions) and subsidies (eco-car subsidies) for promoting environmentally friendly automotive vehicles. Even so, domestic demand fell sharply, while international demand also shrank overall, despite slightly higher demand for trucks in Asian markets.

In response to these conditions, the Group supplied the market with products boasting excellent environmental credentials, while streamlining and strengthening its business systems so as to build a corporate foundation that can achieve sustainable growth in the coming decades.

During the current fiscal year, we energetically promoted sales of the Isuzu Eco Series, whose models are eligible for eco-car tax deductions and subsidies, from heavy vehicles that meet Japan's 2015 fuel economy standards to next-generation vehicles. We also expanded the series to include the three-ton class ELF.

In addition, we combined our advanced low-emission vehicle technology with our diesel engine technology to create products that are friendly to the global environment and society, such as the ELF CNG-MPI, which runs on compressed natural gas and which is the first commercial truck to comply with the 2009 emissions regulation in Japan (so-called "post new-long term regulation".)

As part of our strategy for developing our business during the current consolidated fiscal year, we are reorganizing our business units throughout the Group to enhance their functions in Japan and overseas. The aim is to deliver optimal products tailored to each market, as well as services that can earn the trust of our customers with their diversifying needs.

Measures taken to enhance operations in the domestic market include a life-cycle project. The aim of this project is to improve our vehicle service system to make it more responsive to customers' needs in all aspects of vehicle use. In this way we intend to improve customer satisfaction and stabilize our domestic business. To implement this project, the Company decided to transfer the functions of domestic sales and services at the Company to Isuzu Network Co., Ltd., which controls our domestic sales subsidiaries. Through this project, we plan to further strengthen the specialization and mobility of our sales and service operations to ensure optimal communication with customers.

In product development, the Company decided to transfer its main engineering activities for next-generation pickup models, which had been carried out in Japan, to Isuzu Motors Co.,

(Thailand) Ltd., the Company's production and marketing base for the Thai market -- the Group's largest market for light pickup trucks. This transfer will help expedite decision making for product development, shorten the time to market and deliver a product better suited to local market needs.

The funds raised during the current consolidated fiscal year include long-term borrowings of 81.4 billion yen, as well as other funds. In particular, we borrowed 30.0 billion yen from the Development Bank of Japan Inc. for research and development purposes.

The Company led other Group companies in capital investment during the current consolidated fiscal year, totaling 25.6 billion yen. Major uses of capital investments include the development of products that comply with emission gas control regulations and facilities for assembling vehicles in Thailand.

Business Results

As for vehicle sales, the Group's market share in Japan has grown steadily in the current consolidated fiscal year for all its vehicle segments: from heavy-duty to light-duty trucks and buses. However, we failed to make up the 30% drop in aggregate demand from the previous year. Instead, the number of vehicles sold on the domestic market decreased by 15,416 units (26.7%) to 42,332 units from the previous consolidated fiscal year. On the international front, China and ASEAN countries showed stronger signs of recovery than the rest of the world in the second half of the fiscal year. Sales for the entire year, however, dropped by 96,806 units (28.2%) to 246,113 units from the previous year, largely due to a dip in sales in the first half of the fiscal year.

As for sales of other products, exports of parts for overseas production to South America and Africa were on track to recovery. Still, sales fell by 27.4 billion yen (36.7%) from the previous fiscal year to 47.4 billion yen, dragged down by a decline in the first half of the fiscal year. Sales of engines and components for the year also dropped 42.2 billion yen (23.0%) from the previous year to 141.2 billion yen due to a decline in the first half of the fiscal year.

As a result, net sales decreased by 343.7 billion yen (24.1%) from the previous consolidated fiscal year to 1,080.9 billion yen, with the domestic market accounting for 432.9 billion yen (down 18.9%, year on year) and overseas markets, 647.9 billion yen (down 27.3%, year on year).

Category		Sales Volume (units)	Sales Amount (JPY billion)
es	Heavy-duty (and medium-duty) vehicles	38,276	239.9
Vehicles	Light-duty vehicles and others	250,169	407.7
≯	Subtotal	288,445	647.6
Parts for overseas production		-	47.4
Engines and components		-	141.2
Service parts and others		-	244.6
Total		-	1,080.9

The table below shows the sales volume and amount by product.

Despite the foreign exchange impact from the appreciation of the yen and the dip in sales the first half, sales to domestic and foreign markets, mainly ASEAN countries, grew. The Group also stepped up its overall efforts to improve profitability. As a result, profitability rose in the second half, with operating income amounting to 11.0 billion yen (down 49.1%, year on year) and ordinary income, to 11.3 billion yen (down 25.2%, year on year). Net income rose to 8.4 billion yen (compared to a loss of 26.8 billion yen in the previous year).

NOTE: Amounts have been rounded down to the nearest 100 million yen. Percentages are rounded to one decimal place.

2) Issues Faced by the Corporate Group

While the economy is expected to continue to pick up gradually, future prospects look cloudy, since fears of a slowdown caused by a credit crunch or an overseas economic downturn still remain.

Although demand for trucks from emerging and resource-rich countries is expected to grow, we realize that our business will continue to be affected by adverse factors, such as increases in prices of raw materials, rising expenses for safety and environmental measures, as well as by intensifying competition in domestic and foreign markets.

Through the Mid-term Business Plan launched in 2007, the Group aims to expand and enhance our overseas bases, product lineup and competitiveness, and basic technical capacity.

Although the rapid deterioration in the global economy caused a temporary and significant decrease in world demand for commercial vehicles, undermining a precondition for our Midterm Business Plan, we will not change the Group's basic long-term aim of achieving rapid growth by expanding our overseas business.

For the time being, however, we consider this difficult business environment as an opportunity to lay the foundation for future growth, and focus on imminent challenges by reorganizing and strengthening basic manufacturing functions, analyzing and re-prioritizing projects and shifting resources to our best markets. At the same time, we are devoting more resources to quality control and improvements, as well as to our compliance system.

We hope that all our shareholders will continue to give us their unflagging encouragement and support.

Notes on Financial Instruments

- 1. Matters relating to the status of financial instruments
 - The Company restricts investments only in a part of deposits and obtains funds from bank borrowings. The customer credit risks in connection with trade notes and accounts receivable are managed by monitoring the balances by customer on a timely basis, in accordance with the Company's internal accounting manual. Investment securities are mainly equity securities issued by affiliates, and it continually monitors their market prices in accordance with the Company's internal rules for securities. Derivatives are utilized for the purpose of avoiding risks of future fluctuation of market prices, within the limits of receivables and payables denominated in foreign currencies and borrowings.
- 2. Matters relating to the fair values of financial instruments

The table below shows the amounts of financial instruments recorded in the consolidated balance sheet and their fair values as of March 31, 2010 (the accounting date of the current fiscal year), as well as their variances. Financial instruments, whose fair values are deemed extremely difficult to assume, are not included in the following table. (See NOTE 2)

NOTE 1:

Method of fair value measurement of financial instruments and matters regarding securities and derivatives

- (1) Cash and deposits and (2) Trade notes and accounts receivable Since these accounts are settled in a short period of time, their fair values are nearly equal to their book values. Therefore, the book values are deemed as their fair values.
- (3) Investment securities The fair values of equity securities are based on prices quoted on stock exchanges.
- (4) Trade notes and accounts payable, (5) Short-term borrowings, and (6) Accrued expenses Since these accounts are settled in a short period of time, their fair values are nearly equal to their book values. Therefore, the book values are deemed as their fair values.
- (7) Bonds

The fair value of bonds issued by the Company for which market price is available are based on the market prices, and those for which market price is not available are measured on the basis of present values calculated by discounting the future cash flows of principles and interests by an interest rate that is applicable to bonds issued on similar conditions.

- (8) Long-term borrowings The fair values of long-term borrowings are measured by discounting the future cash flows of principles and interests at an interest rate that would apply for a new loan borrowed under similar conditions.
- (9) Derivatives

Interest rate swaps under exceptional accounting method are accounted for as an integral part of long-term borrowings, the hedged item. Therefore, their fair values are included in the fair value of their underlying long-term borrowings (See (8) above).

Forward foreign exchange contracts under designated hedge accounting method are accounted for as an integral part of accounts receivable, the hedged item, their fair values are included in the fair value of their underlying accounts receivable.

NOTE 2:

Because market prices of unlisted equity securities (1,808 million yen shown in the consolidated balance sheet) are not available, and their future cash flow cannot be estimated, it is extremely difficult to assume their fair values. Therefore, they are not included in "(3) Investment securities, other securities" mentioned above.

Matters on Investment and Rental Property

Disclosures are omitted due to immateriality in amounts.

NOTES ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Basis for Financial Statements

- 1. Significant Accounting Policies
 - (1) Valuation standards and methods for securities
 - i) Securities investment in subsidiaries and affiliates

Securities investment in subsidiaries and affiliates are measured at the cost determined by the moving average method. Some of the securities have been written-off.

- ii) Other securities
 - a. Marketable securities

Marketable securities are measured at fair value with changes in unrealized holding gain or loss, net of deferred tax liabilities (assets), directly included in net assets. Cost of securities sold is calculated by the moving average method.

b. Non-marketable securities

Non-marketable securities are measured at cost using the moving average method.

- (2) Derivative financial instruments Derivative financial instruments are measured at fair value.
- (3) Valuation methods for inventories

Inventories are measured at cost using the gross average method. (Balance sheet values are measured by method of devaluing book price to reflect decreases in profitability)

- (4) Depreciation of non-current assets
 - Depreciation of property, plant and equipment (excluding lease assets) Depreciation of property, plant and equipment is calculated by the straight-line method. Property with an acquisition cost of more than 100 thousand yen and less than 200 thousand yen is depreciated equally over 3 years.
 - ii) Depreciation of intangible assets (excluding lease assets) Depreciation of intangible assets is calculated by the straight-line method.
 "Software" included in intangible assets, is depreciated by the straight-line method based on the estimated useful lifetime (5 years).
 - iii) Lease assets

Lease assets relating to finance lease transactions without transfer of ownership are depreciated over the lease contract's lifetime by the straight-line method, assuming the residual value is zero.

In addition, lease transactions whose lease transaction commencement date was on or prior to March 31, 2008 are accounted for on a basis similar to that for ordinary rental transactions.

- (5) Basis for provisions and allowances
 - i) Allowance for doubtful accounts

Allowance for doubtful accounts is provided based on past experience of normal receivables and with reference to the collectability of receivables from companies in financial difficulty.

- ii) Accrued bonus costs Accrued bonus costs are provided in an amount estimated to cover the bonus payment for services rendered by employees during the fiscal year.
- iii) Provisions for warranty costs Provisions for warranty costs are provided to cover the cost of all services anticipated to be incurred during the entire warranty period in accordance with warranty contracts. The provisions are calculated based on past experience.
- iv) Accrued retirement benefits

Accrued retirement benefits are calculated in an amount based on the projected benefit obligation expected and the pension plan assets expected at the end of the current fiscal year. Prior service costs are amortized by the straight-line method over periods shorter than the average remaining years of service of eligible employees (1 year). Actuarial gain or loss is amortized by the straight-line method over periods shorter than average remaining years of service of eligible employees (10 years) from the year following the year when company recognizes the actuarial gain or loss.

(6) Foreign currency translation

Receivables and payables denominated in foreign currencies are translated into yen at the exchange rate prevailing on the date of the balance sheet, and any differences arising from the translation are included in the financial statements as gains or losses.

- (7) Hedge accounting
 - i) Hedge accounting
 - a. Forward foreign exchange contracts and currency options
 Designated hedge accounting is adopted.
 (except transactions which do not fulfill the required conditions)
 - b. Interest rate swaps and interest rate options
 - Deferral hedge accounting or exceptional accounting method specified in the accounting standard for financial instruments is adopted.
 - ii) Hedging instruments and hedged items
 - a. Hedging instruments

Interest rate swaps, interest rate options, forward foreign exchange contracts, and currency options.

b. Hedged items

Receivables and payables denominated in foreign currencies, borrowings.

iii) Hedging policy

The Company utilizes derivative financial instruments with receivables and payables denominated in foreign currency and borrowings to hedge against possible future fluctuations in the market price.

iv) Assessment of hedge effectiveness

Hedge effectiveness is determined by comparing the cumulative changes in cash flows from the hedging instruments with those from the hedged items. However, this assessment excludes the effectiveness of interest rate swaps accounted by exceptional accounting method.

v) Other

The Company has a bylaw on derivative transactions and manages its transactions and risk management based on this bylaw, which stipulates policies, procedures, retention limits and reporting systems.

(8) Deferred Assets

Deferred assets are all accounted as an expense on payment.

(9) Other

Transactions subject to consumption tax are recorded at amounts excluding consumption tax.

2. Changes in Basis for Financial Statements
